

Quark 6

PC

Export to PDF

Step 1

Under the "Edit" menu, select "Preferences".

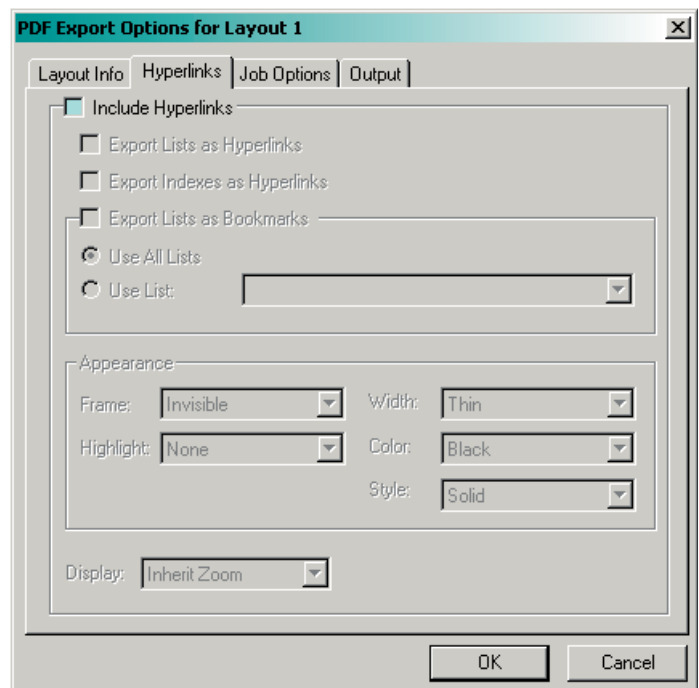

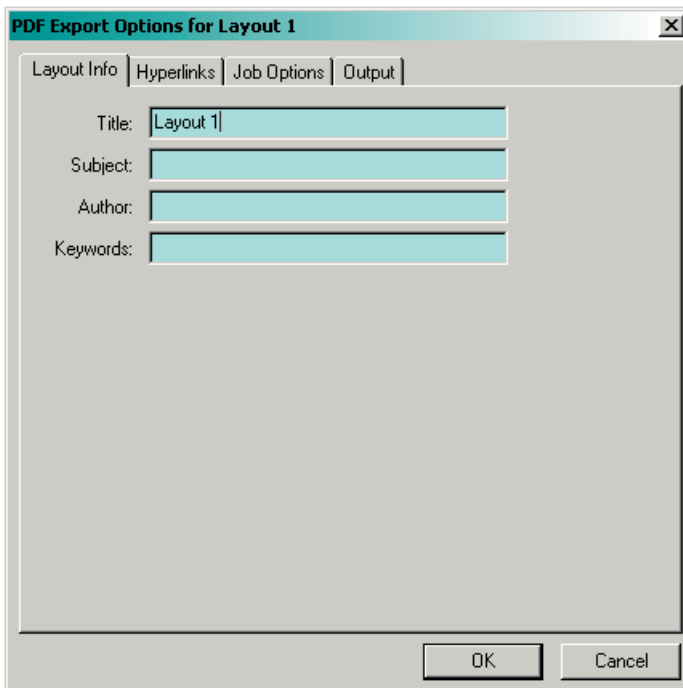

Choose PDF and make sure "Direct to PDF" is on.

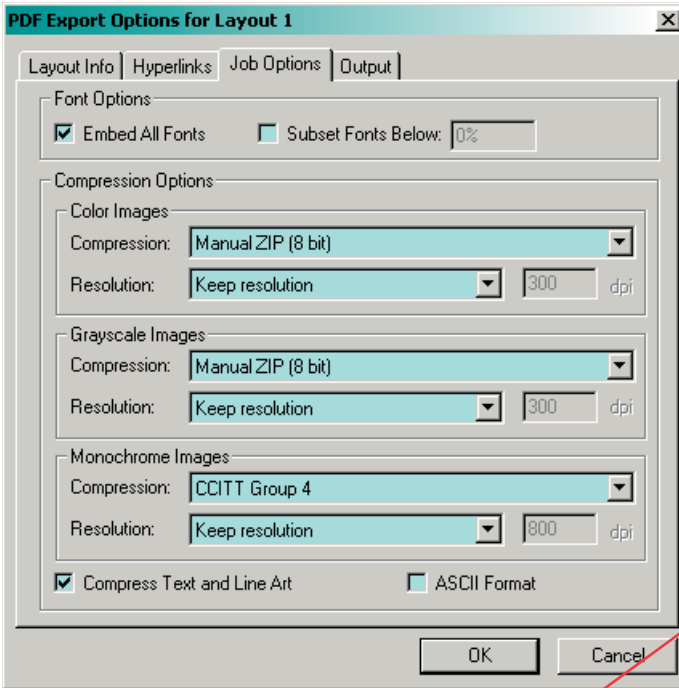

Click on options to set the default.

Note: Step 1 only needs to be done once. Step 3 will be your starting point after that.

Step 2

Match the following tabs to these settings.

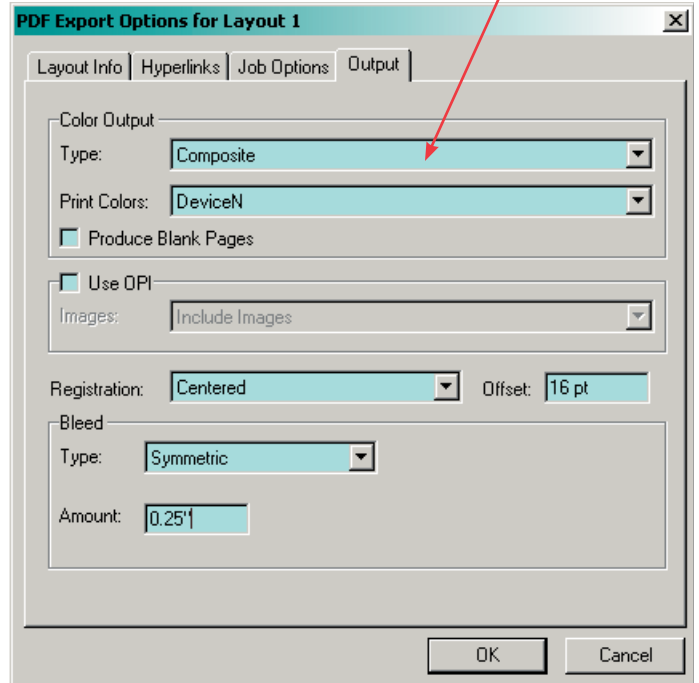

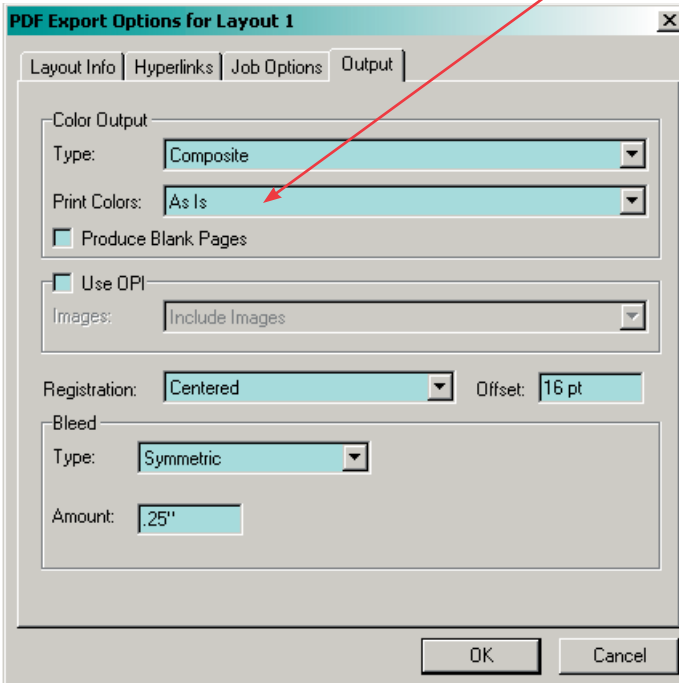

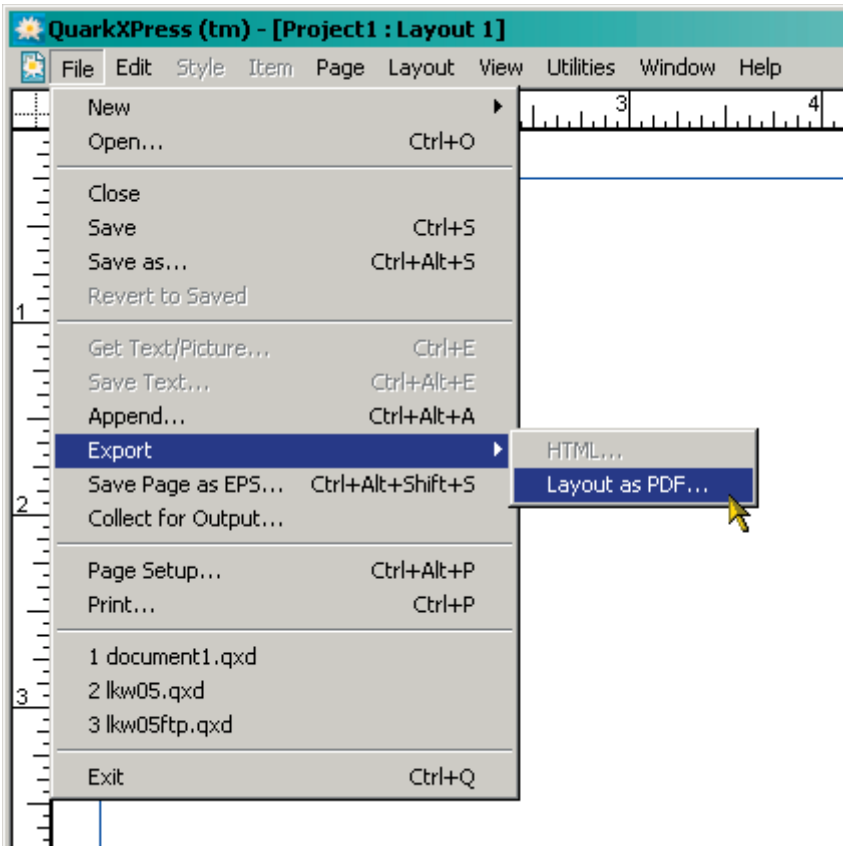

If you aren't printing with any spot colors, make sure they are converted to run from process and choose "Print Colors: As Is" in the Output tab.

If you are printing with spot colors, to make sure they process correctly, choose "Print Colors: DeviceN" in the Output tab.

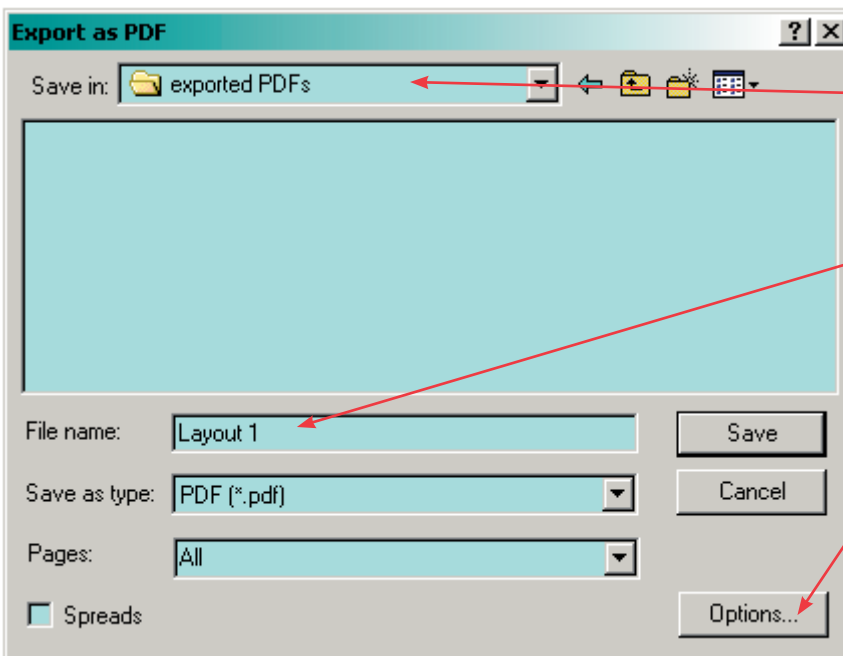

Click "OK".

Step 3

Select "Export Layout as a PDF" under the "File" menu.

Step 4

Map the folder to where you want your PDF's to go.

Give the file a name.

Then click on the "Option" button to make sure the tabs still match what you have already set for your default settings in step 2.
